Version history

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Version</th>
<th>Comments</th>
<th>Date published</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td></td>
<td>August 2017</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

This publication has been compiled by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Land Services, Department of Natural Resources and Mines.

© State of Queensland, 2017

The Queensland Government supports and encourages the dissemination and exchange of its information. The copyright in this publication is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International (CC BY 4.0) licence.

Under this licence you are free, without having to seek our permission, to use this publication in accordance with the licence terms.

You must keep intact the copyright notice and attribute the State of Queensland as the source of the publication.

Note: Some content in this publication may have different licence terms as indicated.

For more information on this licence, visit https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/.

The information contained herein is subject to change without notice. The Queensland Government shall not be liable for technical or other errors or omissions contained herein. The reader/user accepts all risks and responsibility for losses, damages, costs and other consequences resulting directly or indirectly from using this information.
Annexure 8.2

Delegations and responsibilities

1. No delegations

There are no delegations to make decisions in relation to native title under the Native Title Work Procedures, the Native Title Act 1993 (NTA) or the Native Title (Queensland) Act 1993 (NTQA).

The native title assessment process is just one part of your decision-making process to make your decision about the land or resource dealing under your legislation, e.g. a decision to grant a lease or a permit. By carrying out a native title assessment, you ensure your decision complies with the NTA.

If you, as the decision-maker, are unsure how to proceed, contact your Native Title Contact Officer (NTCO) for advice. If your NTCO is unsure how to proceed, your NTCO will contact Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Land Services for advice (see Annexure 7.11).

However, please note that the procedures do direct when a matter must be forwarded to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Land Services (via your NTCO) for our consideration. This direction is usually provided for more complex issues.

2. Your responsibility

The State must comply with the NTA when carrying out land and resource dealings.

Therefore, it is important that for each and every land and resource dealing you carry out a native title assessment in accordance with the Native Title Work Procedures.

If there is a gap in time between completing your native title assessment and doing the proposed dealing, you must ensure that your native title assessment is still correct at the time you do the dealing.

For example, when you did your assessment Module BB may not have applied but because a native title claim has since been filed Module BB may now be applicable to your proposed dealing.

Finally, if you rely upon another officer’s native title assessment for a particular area, it is still your decision. However, a conclusion published in QNTIME can be relied upon for the purpose of your native title assessment. The existence of a conclusion means no further tenure or usage research is required, as native title has been assessed by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Land Services as being wholly extinguished over the area covered by the conclusion subject to your consideration of Module BB.